Detailed assessment

This performance report details the Commissioner's assessment of the provider's performance, in relation to the service, against the Aged Care Quality Standards (Quality Standards). The Quality Standard and requirements are assessed as either compliant or non-compliant at the Standard and requirement level where applicable.

The following information has been taken into account in developing this performance report:

- the Assessment Team's report for the Site Audit; the Site Audit report was informed by a site assessment, observations at the service, review of documents and interviews with staff, consumers/representatives and others; and
- the provider did not respond to the Site Audit report.

STANDARD 1

Consumer dignity and choice

Consumer outcome:

1. I am treated with dignity and respect, and can maintain my identity. I can make informed choices about my care and services, and live the life I choose.

Organisation statement:

- 2. The organisation:
- (a) has a culture of inclusion and respect for consumers; and
- (b) supports consumers to exercise choice and independence; and
- (c) respects consumers' privacy.

Assessment of Standard 1

The Quality Standard is assessed as compliant as six of the six specific Requirements have been assessed as compliant.

Overall, sampled consumers considered they are treated with dignity and respect, can maintain their identity and live the life they choose.

Consumers said staff are kind, respectful and supportive of their identity, culture and diversity. Staff were knowledgeable of consumers' personal history, cultural background, preferences and things of importance to them. Staff spoke about, and were observed interacting with, consumers in respectful and compassionate manner.

Care planning documents included individualised information about each sampled consumer, including preferences for care and aspects of their lives which are important to maintain their identity, culture and diversity. Staff provided examples of how this information is used to ensure care and services are culturally safe.

Consumers are supported to exercise choice and independence in relation to when they are assisted with personal care, what they would like for meals, preferred activities, and are encouraged to maintain their independence. Staff described how they engage with consumers to facilitate choice and independence, and how they support consumers to maintain relationships.

Consumers felt supported to take risks. Where a consumer chooses to undertake an activity that involves an element of risk, assessments are undertaken, strategies

Information provided to consumers is current, accurate and timely, and communicated in a way that is clear, easy to understand and enables them to exercise choice. Consumers, representatives and staff said consumers receive information through various channels, including phone calls, emails, social media, the activities calendar, brochures, newsletters and meetings, and consumers considered the level of information sufficient to make appropriate choices about their care and service delivery.

Consumers and representatives confirmed consumers' privacy is respected and staff provided examples of how staff respect consumers' personal space and are mindful of their dignity when providing care. The organisation has policies and procedures in place to ensure consumers' privacy is respected and confidentiality of consumer information is maintained.

Based on this evidence, I find the service compliant with all Requirements in Standard 1 Consumer dignity and choice.

STANDARD 2

COMPLIANT

Ongoing assessment and planning with consumers

Consumer outcome:

1. I am a partner in ongoing assessment and planning that helps me get the care and services I need for my health and well-being.

Organisation statement:

2. The organisation undertakes initial and ongoing assessment and planning for care and services in partnership with the consumer. Assessment and planning has a focus on optimising health and well-being in accordance with the consumer's needs, goals and preferences.

Assessment of Standard 2

The Quality Standard is assessed as compliant as five of the five specific Requirements have been assessed as compliant.

Overall, sampled consumers considered that they feel like partners in the ongoing assessment and planning of their care and services.

Care planning documentation showed comprehensive assessment and planning that included consumer needs, goals and preferences, advance care and end of life planning, risks to consumer health and well-being, and risk mitigation strategies. On entry, assessments are undertaken to identify risk and guide staff in the delivery of safe and effective care and services. These include, but are not limited to, pain, skin, nutrition, mobility, cognitive function, communication, continence and toileting, emotional and psychological well-being and behaviours. Staff demonstrated an understanding of assessment and planning processes.

Advance care and end of life planning are completed on entry, as part of care evaluation processes and any other time as needed, and include consumers' preferences in relation to palliative care wishes, goals, religious needs and funeral directives. Staff demonstrated an understanding of sampled consumers' end of life preferences and described advance care and end of life processes.

Care plans were reflective of the consumer and inclusive of those involved in the care of the consumer, including relevant health specialists. On entry, consumers are asked who they would like to involve in the assessment and planning processes. Following development of care plans, case conferences are held with consumers and

Assessment of Standard 2 Requirements

Requirement 2(3)(a)

Assessment and planning, including consideration of risks to the consumer's health and well-being, informs the delivery of safe and effective care and services.

Requirement 2(3)(b)

Requirement 2(3)(c)

The organisation demonstrates that assessment and planning:

- (i) is based on ongoing partnership with the consumer and others that the consumer wishes to involve in assessment, planning and review of the consumer's care and services: and
- (ii) includes other organisations, and individuals and providers of other care and services, that are involved in the care of the consumer.

STANDARD 3

Personal care and clinical care

Consumer outcome:

1. I get personal care, clinical care, or both personal care and clinical care, that is safe and right for me.

Organisation statement:

2. The organisation delivers safe and effective personal care, clinical care, or both personal care and clinical care, in accordance with the consumer's needs, goals and preferences to optimise health and well-being.

Assessment of Standard 3

The Quality Standard is assessed as compliant as seven of the seven specific Requirements have been assessed as compliant.

Overall, sampled consumers consider they receive personal and clinical care that is safe and right for them.

Care files sampled demonstrated effective management of pain, skin integrity issues and diabetes. Consumers receiving psychotropic medications have been identified and Behaviour care plans are in place to guide staff on non-pharmacological strategies to be used prior to use of restraint, triggers, consumer history and consent. A register and audit tool are used to monitor and review the use of restraints. Staff described how they provide best practice and tailored care to consumers. The service maintains guidance material to direct staff in best practice clinical care delivery. Consumers and representatives were satisfied with the clinical and personal care provided.

High impact or high prevalence risks associated with the care of consumers are identified through assessment processes and management strategies are developed to ensure care and services are delivered in line with consumers' assessed needs and preferences. Care files demonstrated appropriate management of risks relating to behaviour, choking and falls. Consumers are placed on a risk matrix to understand the level of risk associated with their care. New consumers, those determined to be high risk or those that have had incidents, are discussed at weekly risk meetings to ensure their risks are effectively managed. Staff demonstrated strong familiarity with sampled consumers' high impact or high prevalence risks and discussed strategies implemented to mitigate the risks. Staff confirmed they have had training around high risk areas. The organisation has policies and procedures to assist and guide staff to provide safe and effective care to all consumers.

There are processes in place to ensure needs, goals and preferences of consumers nearing the end of life are recognised and addressed, with their comfort maximised and dignity preserved. End of life wishes are documented to guide staff on consumers' needs, goals and preferences when nearing the end of life. Staff provided examples of additional support and monitoring provided to consumers when clinically deteriorating, including emotional, spiritual, cultural and clinical care.

Documentation and interviews with staff showed deterioration in consumers' health, cognition or physical function is recognised and responded to in a timely manner, including initiating appropriate referrals, conducting assessments and implementing additional clinical care congruent to changed needs.

Information regarding consumers' condition, needs and preferences is documented on a care plan and readily available to staff and others where responsibility for care is shared. Staff said they access up-to-date consumer information through care plans and at handover. Consumers and representatives considered consumers' needs and preferences are effectively communicated between staff.

Care planning documents showed timely and appropriate referral to other services and organisations for additional review and treatment of consumers' health care needs. The organisation has policies and procedures to guide staff in the referral process.

There are processes in place to support the minimisation of infection related risks through implementing standard and transmission-based precautions to prevent and control infection, and practices to promote antibiotic prescribing and use to reduce the risk of increasing resistance to antibiotics. Staff demonstrated knowledge of antimicrobial stewardship principles, described strategies used to minimise the need for antibiotics and provided examples of action taken to prevent the spread of infection. The service has policies and procedures to guide staff in relation to infection control, including outbreak management. Trends in infection are reported monthly to ensure they are being effectively managed, and antibiotics are being used appropriately.

Based on this evidence, I find the service compliant with all Requirements in Standard 3 Personal care and clinical care.

Assessment of Standard 3 Requirements

Requirement 3(3)(a)

Each consumer gets safe and effective personal care, clinical care, or both personal care and clinical care, that:

- (i) is best practice; and
- (ii) is tailored to their needs; and
- (iii) optimises their health and well-being.

Requirement 3(3)(b)

Effective management of high impact or high prevalence risks associated with the care of each consumer.

Requirement 3(3)(c)

The needs, goals and preferences of consumers nearing the end of life are recognised and addressed, their comfort maximised and their dignity preserved.

Requirement 3(3)(d)

Deterioration or change of a consumer's mental health, cognitive or physical function, capacity or condition is recognised and responded to in a timely manner.

Requirement 3(3)(e)

Information about the consumer's condition, needs and preferences is documented and communicated within the organisation, and with others where responsibility for care is shared.

Requirement 3(3)(f)

Timely and appropriate referrals to individuals, other organisations and providers of other care and services.

Requirement 3(3)(g)

Minimisation of infection related risks through implementing:

STANDARD 4 COMPLIANT Services and supports for daily living

Consumer outcome:

1. I get the services and supports for daily living that are important for my health and well-being and that enable me to do the things I want to do.

Organisation statement:

2. The organisation provides safe and effective services and supports for daily living that optimise the consumer's independence, health, well-being and quality of life.

Assessment of Standard 4

The Quality Standard is assessed as compliant as seven of the seven specific Requirements have been assessed as compliant.

Overall, sampled consumers considered the service supports them to do the things they want to do, and which are important for their health and well-being.

Care planning documentation included information in relation to consumers' goals, lifestyle and activity preferences, relationships of importance and needs and preferences in relation to emotional, social, spiritual and cultural support. Staff demonstrated knowledge and understanding of sampled consumers' needs and preferences in line their care plans. Activities are planned based on consumer needs, preferences, feedback and suggestions. To foster engagement and limit potential isolation, consumer participation in activities is regularly reviewed to identify if additional supports are needed. Throughout the duration of the Site Audit, consumers were observed participating in a range of individual and activities, including leaving the service independently or with family.

Services and supports are in place to promote each consumer's emotional, spiritual and psychological well-being. Care staff explained how they identify and respond to consumers who need additional support and were knowledgeable about strategies to support sampled consumers emotional, spiritual and psychological well-being. Consumers said staff provide them with support when they are feeling low, including regular check-ins and good communication.

Consumers described how they are supported to participate in their community within and outside the organisation's service environment, have social and personal

There are processes in place to ensure information about the consumer's condition, needs and preferences are communicated within the organisation, and with others where responsibility for care is shared. Consumers felt staff know their condition, needs and preferences, including dietary of food preferences, emotional needs, and choices.

relationships and do things of interest to them, including participating in lifestyle activities, going for walks or driving independently and socialising.

Care planning documentation showed appropriate referrals to individuals, organisations and providers of other care and services for the provision of supports for daily living. Volunteers, Allied health staff and a member of the clergy were observed interacting with consumers throughout the Site Audit.

Consumers gave positive feedback about the food and stated they are provided choice, meals were varied and of suitable quality and quantity. Consumers confirmed the service responds adequately to feedback about food. The service's menu caters for consumer preferences, allergies and religious, cultural and dietary requirements. The menu includes various meal options to allow consumers to exercise choice. Staff detailed how they become aware of changes to existing consumers' dietary needs or preferences. Staff were observed asking consumers if they enjoyed their meal and if they were not eating much, whether they would like a different option.

Equipment used to support daily living was observed to be safe, suitable, clean and well maintained. Consumers said they have access to the equipment they need to mobilise safely, and staff demonstrated an understanding of preventative and reactive maintenance processes to ensure equipment is clean and in good condition.

Based on the above evidence, I find the service compliant with all Requirements in Standard 4 Services and supports for daily living.

The layout of the environment enabled consumers to move around freely, with suitable furniture and fittings to help consumers navigate. Consumers were observed outside in the various garden and courtyard areas or sitting in the open lounge areas, chatting to others, or watching television.

Based on the above evidence, I find the service compliant with all Requirements in Standard 5 Organisation's service environment.
